

Hamilton Training Program Reno, Nevada

Local transportation: Rental cars are available at the Reno-Tahoe International Airport. Taxis are also readily available throughout the Reno-Sparks area, especially from the hotels. There is no special transportation to Hamilton.

Class start and duration (unless otherwise noted):

First day... 8:30am to 4:00pm

Subsequent days... 8:00am to 4:00pm

What to wear: The dress code at Hamilton Robotics is informal. You may wish to dress in layers, as the temperature in the training room may vary through the day.

What to bring: If you are coming for a User Training class (as opposed to a Service Training class), we highly recommend you bring a laptop with the instrument software already loaded (or have administrative privileges, so you can load the software during class). You may also want to bring any methods that you have already written but have questions about. For Service Training classes, you need not bring anything; however, if you have a laptop, you may wish to bring it to practice doing calibrations or adjustments with your own laptop. Wireless internet access will be available.

What is included?

- Copies of the presentations
- Certificate of completion
- Electronic copies of Operators and Programmers manuals (for User classes)
- Example programs (for User classes)
- Lunches are generally included

More about Hamilton Robotics: Hamilton Robotics is officially open from 7am to 4pm Pacific Time. The local phone number is 775-858-3000. The address is 4970 Energy Way, Reno, Nevada 89502 USA.

Data based on information compiled from various websites. Check with the individual hotels for verification regarding particular features, amenities, and fees.

Most hotel-casinos do not put coffee makers in the room, but you can request that one be provided. In addition, you may request a humidifier for your room to help counteract the effects of Nevada's very dry climate.
